

Write:OutLoud

The talking word processor with great new features for guaranteed writing success

Write:OutLoud is the easy-to-use yet powerful talking word processor with a talking spell checker. This award-winning program helps get class work done and makes students enjoy writing. Listening to words encourages reluctant writers and eliminates frustration. Write:OutLoud gives students the satisfaction and success that motivates them to write more and want to write.

From a Leading Expert in Student Writing "The beauty of Write:OutLoud is that children can check to see if their text sounds right, providing them with a powerful and natural strategy for hearing where changes are needed. This can also be very motivating for children, as they can hear as well as see their accomplishments."

This exciting new version has numerous innovative new features, namely a dictionary and facility for importing of pictures (with support for numerous graphic formats). One of the most useful and critically acclaimed features is the Write:OutLoud's (WOL) talking spell checker. It voices misspelt words. More importantly, it also voices the sentence or phrase in context, as well as the list of suggested words. In addition, in this new version, it provides context sensitive definitions of each word, in a dictionary! You can edit and customise the dictionary as well and include your own definitions. This supports poor readers, students who have dyslexia and confuse words, people with poor eyesight as well as those users who have a reading disability.

Write:OutLoud is for:

- Students with learning disabilities
- Students who struggle with reading and writing
- Students with physical disabilities

Helps students become better writers:

- Students develop writing confidence
- Students produce work they are proud to display
- Students write more and for longer periods of time
- Students are able to read text independently

Features that support better writing:

- Speaks while students write, highlighting word by word to provide a direct correlation between spoken and written words
- NEW! Imports graphics to support students' writing
- NEW! Talking Franklin Spell Checker, Dictionary and Homonym Checker are included for selecting and using the right words
- NEW! Macintosh and PC versions are identical for better file sharing from class to class or from school to home
- NEW! Offers male, female and child's voices for better listening comprehension
- NEW! Opens any size file so students can read scanned documents